

Values, Mobiles & Making Movies

A project presented by Inspirational Cinema & UNESCO APNIEVE

This workshop series will show you how to take an innovative values-based approach to using mobile phone technology for digital storytelling and making inspirational films with your students.

Empower learners to become socially and environmentally aware citizen-journalists through creative film making with their mobile phones.

Adopt solutions-based approaches to key global and sustainability issues, connecting learners with each other across the world through a dynamic internet forum where approved films are displayed.

Develop basic skills in editing and uploading films to a shared forum.
